

Schools with the greatest gap between demand and supply of Internet access

*% of students who cannot connect from home
VS number of hotspots available at school*

The graph shows how some schools do not offer any hotspots despite a high % of students who cannot connect from home

Data comes from the Illinois State Board of Education